

Avant Technology Inc. Established the Sales Representative Office in Yokohama, Japan

Avant Technology Inc., a professional EDA tool & Silicon IP distributor in Taiwan, is expanding its territory to Japan. Avant Technology is pleased to announce the cooperation with City of Yokohama to set up a Sales Representative Office in September, 2015 by joining the special program at Yokohama World Business Support Center(WBC) in Japan. The City of Yokohama provides prompt support and very good advice to Avant while setting up the Sales Representative Office. The professional and enthusiastic assistance from City of Yokohama is the key factor that Avant chose Yokohama city as the location of its sales representative office in Japan.

With the help of City of Yokohama and Yokohama World Business Support Center (WBC), Avant Technology can support local customers in Japan directly by introducing leading technology in order to greatly reduce the time-to-market for a SoC design (System-on-Chip Design). Avant recognizes the importance of the services in order to satisfy the customers in both speed and professionalism. Based on the experiences from working with the industry, Avant cooperates with the customers to help them in enhancing the productivity with the professionalism and thus has accumulated the various kinds of experiences in applications to introduce many EDA tools & Silicon IPs. A lot of accumulated experiences assure the service quality to the customers. With this asset gained from the trust of our customers, Avant has been a leading Solution Provider for EDA Tools & Silicon IPs in Asia.

In order to provide instant support for Japan customers, Avant signed the contract with Techrev Japan LLC for sales activities in Japan.
